RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Graduate Researcher, UC Santa Cruz - Fall 2014 - Present

Working in Dr. Nicolas Davidenko's perception lab, I am designing and conducting behavioral studies of visual and auditory communication. I am examining how cues such as facial movement and intonation influence whether speech is interpreted as sincere or sarcastic.

Graduate Research Assistant, UC Berkeley - Fall 2012 - Summer 2014

Worked in Dr. Mark D'Esposito's cognitive neuroscience lab, helping to conduct several studies, coordinating and scheduling subjects for TMS and fMRI sessions, assisting in data collection and analysis, and reviewing literature.

Undergraduate Investigator, Lewis and Clark College, Spring 2012

Conducted an extensive literature review on the topic of stress and addiction for a capstone Neuroscience course and presented my findings to the class.

Undergraduate Co-Investigator, Lewis and Clark College, Fall 2011

Performed IP injections of saline and caffeine in rats with a group and coded their behavior in Open Field and Elevated Zero Plus Maze tests. Conducted an independent literature review and wrote a paper presenting our findings.

Undergraduate Co-Investigator, Lewis and Clark College, Fall 2011

Worked with a small group to study salivary cortisol levels of the school's crew team on weeks either preceding a practice or competition race. Analyzed samples with an enzyme-linked immunosorbent assay (ELISA). Presented findings with group.

Undergraduate Researcher, Lewis and Clark College, Fall 2009

Designed and administered a 32-question survey to 78 student participants. Performed an in-depth literature review on parent-child emotional closeness with respect to parental marital status.
